Abbreviations used: b. - born d. - died m. - married
 ac. - about Vol. volume p. - page

Letters preceding names in the charts denote the place in the individual family (A for first child, B for second child, etc.) Numbers in () denote generation ((1) for 1st generation, (2) for second generation, etc.) beginning with the immigrant ancestor, Captain Thomas Harris. A form of spelling used in the early records is f for s.

Compiler's Note:

It is not my desire to give records of present day Harrises. I have tried to give as many of the old records as I could locate, and set up charts from which each Harris family descending from Benjamin Harris of Anderson District South Carolina can continue its lines.

These records have been compiled for my children and consequently contain records of their particular Harris line, with several allied lines. I have given all available records on the children of Benjamin Harris and his wife Karen Gillison of Anderson District, South Carolina, as most of the Harris families of South Carolina descent come through that branch.

Early Harris Records-

The following Early Harris Records are from reliable sources. Several of the most accepted records are given. The records differ slightly, due to the various sources from which they were gathered. All possible proof has been given. The desired proof is lacking in several cases, because the early records were destroyed by fire, especially the Hanover County, Virginia records. The records given are accepted by the highest authorities on the Virginia Harris lines. All records have been copied verbatim.

Adria, dau. Thomas Osborne, who came to Va. with Harris; m. 2nd Joane- His son Robert Harris of The Forks m. Mrs. Mary (Claiborne) Rice, Dau. Col. William Claiborne, first sec. Va. Colony."

Harris Genealogy- Compiled By Gideon Dowse Harris 1914.

From all the information that I can gather, I am led to believe that the American Harrises are of one common English stock. The original seat is said to have been in Wales, in the town of Harriston. Some of the Welsh Harrises are said to have moved into Northeastern Ireland, just across the Irish Sea from Wales. The Irish Harrises became blended with the Scotch, and from the Scotch-Irish Harrises many emigrated to the Northern States of America.

Early Harris Record - Harris Genealogy (Cont'd)

Robert Harris, from Glamorgan, Wales (Son of Capt. Thomas Harris and 1st wife Adria Osborne)

II Robert Harris born ac 1630, came from Glamorgan, Wales ac 1650, and settled on the James in Virginia. He married ac 1660 Mary Claiborne Rice, their son William married Temperance Overton, this couple lived on the James, possibly in present Albemarle County, records of which show William Harris of this date, owning property there 1730-1745.

III William and Temperance Overton Harris had children:

- IV
- A. Robert born ac 1700.
 - B. Overton.
 - C. Frederick.
 - D. Temperance.
 - E. Keziah.

The above son A. Robert, married Mourning Glenn 1720. Member House of Burgesses from Hanover County, surveyor Louisa County, Albemarle County militia, large land owner. Children of this Major Robert and Mourning Glenn Harris are:

- 1. Anna
- 2. Christopher, traced in 'History & Genealogy' by W. H. Miller.
- 3. Tyree born 1728, m. Miss Chapman, 2nd Mary Ann Simpson went to Orange County, North Carolina and became high sheriff. Children: Nancy, Frances, Tyree, Simpson, Robert, Christopher, Ede and Liddy.
- 4. Mary, m. cousin James Harris.
- 5. Mourning Glenn
- 6. Lucy.
- 7. Sarah
- 8. Robert born 1741, m. Lucritia Brown.
- 9. Rachael
- 10. Frances.
- 11. William born 1752, m. Miss Michie, Miss Thompson, Hannah Jameson.

This was written in an old book that must have belonged to Maj. Robert Harris, as it has accounts dated 1716-1721, but it was signed by Tyree Harris. It did not give names of marriages for the children of Maj. Robert Harris, but on July 14th, 1823, it was copied into an old Bible by Cliff Harris, son of Joel and Anna, grandson of James and Mary. At last account these records were in the possession of Mrs. G. W. Clardy, nee Malvry Harris, Liberty, Mo., a descendant. The compiler of these notes has a letter from Mrs. Clardy with this data. Mr. Frank Rodes, St. Louis, descended from Sarah, dau. of Maj. Robert Harris, and John Rodes, gives the children of William Harris, III above, and also the marriage of Robert Harris, and Mary Rice, nee claiborne, showing how various branches of the family agree in their traditions, often without having heard anything from the rest.

Early Harris Record

Harris Family Of Virginia - 1611 to 1914- Thomas Henry Harris.

Capt. Thomas Harris was a member of the Virginia Company 1609, he came with Thomas Osborne, to Virginia in 1611 and settled on lands now Henrico County. Captain Thomas Harris, aged 38 years, arrived in the vessel "Prosperous", in Virginia, in May 1611, and his wife, Adria Osborne, age 23, in November 1621, in the vessel "Marmaduke". They lived at neck of land, Charles City (Cape Charles). He was second in command with Thomas Osborne in the long war with the Indians in 1622. He was a member of the House of Burgesses in 1623-'39-'47, and had many grants of land, 1655-58. Thomas Harris Gent. (so styled in records of Virginia Company, see Brown's Genesis of U.S.) was a subscriber in the second Virginia Corporation and paid twenty-five pounds. This Thomas Harris was Captain in the Indian wars and married Adria Osborne. His son Robert married the widow Rice, who was Mary Claiborne, the youngest daughter of Col. William Claiborne, the first Secretary of the Virginia Colony. His wife was Elizabeth Bristow. William Harris, son of this Robert Harris, married Temperance Overton; she was five years younger; the daughter of William Overton; his wife was Peggie Garland. We find that during the terms of Governor Dale from 1611 to 1616 that Thomas Harris was a planter and his first ownership of land by patent was in 1635. In the Genealogical Count of names of the early Virginia settlers he was eighth.

Court and Colonial records show Major Robert Harris, of the "Forks", who married the widow Rice (who was Miss Claiborne) was noted for his high sense of honor, his veracity, his high temper, and many of his descendants have inherited these traits of his strong character. The descendants of this strong-minded, hard-headed old man and his wife, the elegant gentlewoman, have given the States many valuable and useful citizens. Children of Major Robert Harris and Mary Claiborne Harris (who was the widow Rice), one son, William, who married Temperance Overton. Her children, (1) Robert married Mourning Glenn, their children: Frederick m. 2nd Catherine Smith, Christopher m. Nancy McCord, John m. Margaret Maupin, William m. Malinda Duncan. River, near Weyanoke. The said William Harris married Temperance Overton, a daughter of a wealthy tobacco grower, William Overton, and Mary Walters, his wife. William Overton was a son of Colonel --- Overton, who commanded a Brigade of Iron sides under Oliver Cromwell.

William Harris- son of Robert Harris and Mary Claiborne. The above mentioned William Harris became also a tobacconist, raising and dealing in that weed, which at that time was a medium of exchange, and became fairly well off in this world's goods, but he died before he reached old age. From this emigrant, sprang our American family, which is noted for courage, brain, strength, industry, endurance, honesty, and influence; many have held high positions in political, economical, agricultural, and commercial industry, in the ministry fearless, but God-fearing servants, in various branches of learning, in the army, in the navy, and in every calling and profession, some noted lawyers, some famous physicians, some humorous and learned writers. William Harris died March 8, 1687, at the age of thirty five years. His remains were buried in an old Colonial church at Weyanoke on the James River. To William Harris and his wife Temperance Overton were born three sons: Christopher Harris, Major Robert Harris, Overton Harris.

* Major Robert Harris- son of William Harris and Temperance Overton.

Major Robert Harris was born about 168- in Virginia. He married Mourning Glen (Mourning Glenn). He took up land in Brown's Cove in Albermarle County in 1750.  Will of Major Robert Harris on page 8.

"In the name of God, Amen. I Robert Harris of the County of Albemarle, being of perfect mind, and memory, do make and ordain this my last will and testament, in manner and form following: first and principally I recommend my soul to God, who gave it me, not doubting but through the merits of my blessed savior to have full pardon and remission of my sins, and my body, I recommend to the earth from whence it came, to be burried in such manner as my executors hereafter named shall see fit. And as touching such temporal estate as it has pleased God to bestow on me, I give and dispose of in manner and form following. Imprimis: I give and bequeath to my son Christopher Harris forty acres of woodland, ground lying and being in the county of Albemarle, on a large spur of the Blue Ridge of Mountains near to a place commonly called and known by the name of the 'Bear cornfield', to him and his heirs and assigns forever.

Item: I give and bequeath to my son, William Harris, after the decease of my loving wife, Morning (Mourning) Harris, all the land which I hold in the county of Albemarle to him and his heirs forever.

Item: I leave to my loving wife Mouring Harris, the sole use and benefit of all the lands and plantations during her natural life, which is above given to my son, William Harris after her decease.

Item: I leave to the said loving wife, the sole use and benefit during her natural life, six slaves, that is to say, Harry, Peter, Dick, Aaron, men, Patta and Nancy, women.

Item: My will and desire is, after the decease of my wife, that if my negro man, Harry should be then living, in that case I give and bequeath the said Harry, to my son, Robert Harris, junior, to him and his heirs.

Item: My will and desire is, after the decease of my wife, that if my negro man, Peter, should be then living, in that case I give and bequeath the said Peter to my son, Tyre Harris, to him and his heirs.

Item: My will and desire is, after the decease of my wife, that if my other four negroes, Dick and Aaron, men, and Patta and Nanny, women, be then living I give and bequeath them and their increase to my son, William Harris, to him and his heirs.

Item: My will and desire is, that if my son, William Harris should die before he attains the lawful age, or without issue, that in that case he the said William Harris should be further educated, the charges thereof shall be paid out of the estate given him, after the whole being sold, by my executors herein after named, and the remainder of the money arising from such sale be equally divided amongst all my children or their legal representatives.

Item: My will and desire is, that my son William Harris to be under the tuition, direction and government of my son-in-law, John Rodes, until he shall attain to lawful age.

HARRIS - One straight line as gleaned from such data
as Valintine papers, Overton Papers, Claiborne
Papers, and a Journal written by Thomas Harris
(16) previous to 1784, and E.S. Stuart in 1896, and backed up by court records.

Thomas Harris (No. 16) son of Thomas Harris (No. 7) was born some place near "The Forks" and lived in Hanover Co. Va. from 1713 to about 1755, then moved to Amelia Co. which was included in Prince Edward Co. after 1754 to live till his death 1782-84. Some time before his death he wrote that he called a journal, which appeared to be an autobiography, diary, or what you may call it. In his account there were ancestors, descendants, few locations, few dates, and a variety of items.
But he did not document his article. In this journal he had his will, and it was found in Prince Edward Co. word for word in Will Book 1, page 339. Some time after his death his neice, Elizabeth Harris, who is my ancestor, made a copy of much of the journal, expecially the lists of the family. Her son Gideon Harris brought this copy to Tennessee in 1810, filed it away with his important papers, there to be buried deeper year by year. After his death these papers were nailed up, and not disturbed for many years. Finally this box of papers fell into my hands and have been examined. I, his great grandson, found receipts, contracts, this account, and arithmetic copy in long hand, and many items of lesser interest.

My father and uncle became interested in this Harris data, and suggested that I analyze, organize, and make available to the family. It was more difficult that we thought at first, and it has never been finished. After organizing the material my first task was to see what others had written on this subject, and to examine what few records that had been saved in the places where these people had lived. My interest increased as this task proceeded, because no contradictions were found and many coroborations were found. They were identified by wills, land transfers, grave stones, and old bibles, also church records, parish registers, and list of soldiers. So my confidence in this account is very strong as far as it goes, and my regret is that it does not go far enough.

HERE IS WHAT I HAVE BEEN ABLE TO GET
(briefly outlined descent)

"Sometime in the early settlement of Jamestown Thomas Harris
(No. 0) emigrated from Wales to the colony of Jamestown in Virginia. There he settled, married twice and reared a a family of three sons and one daughter. He arrived in America 1611, his first wife, Adria Osborne, in November 1621. According to an affidavit he made before the land office to secure an allotment of land, she was dead before September 1626.

Early Harris Records- From W. Lee Harris (Cont'd)

Thomas Harris married a second time to Joane Gurgarny by Adria had two children:-

- (1) Robert Harris wed. widow Mary Rice whose maiden name was Mary Claiborne.
- (2) Mary Harris wed. Col. Thomas Ligon
- (3) Thomas Harris, Jr.
- (4) William Harris wed. Lucy ---

It seems to be agreed among writers that the first two children were of Adria, and that the last two were of Joane. There is no agreement as to the date of Robert's birth but I have estimated it as between 1621 and 1626, probably about 1623. Mary (2) was born 1625, Thomas (3) was born 1629, and William (4) was born later, some say as late as 1638.

Robert Harris (1) wed. widow Mary Rice, said to have been the widow of Edward or Edmund Rice. She was the daughter of William Claiborn and sister of Thomad & William Claiborne. They formerly owned the land on which she was Robert made their home at "The Forks". Several writers have mentioned one child only and that was William who married Temperance Overton. But I notice that E.S. Stuart in 1896 says that there may have been other children as he found several Harris families around the headwaters of York River claiming to be descendants of Mary Claiborne & Robert Harris. Also I notice that Dr. Malcolm H. Harris who lives there and has practiced medicine over all this locality says that it is interesting that Harrises claiming to be from Robert and Mary were not descended through William and Temperance. He wonders why some one had not produced an authentic list of the children of that pair. My list coming from Thomas Harris (16) written before 1784 shows the following:

- (5) William Harris wed. Temperance Overton in 1696
- (6) Two daughters - Mary and Judith
- (7) Thomas Harris wed Mary Giles
- (8) John Harris wed. Mary Stanley
- () Robert Harris, Jr. (not sure)

Thomas Harris (7) wed. Mary Giles. He grew up and married around the forks, was noted as tithable in St. Paul P. went up Little River with William, John & Robert, Jr. Took out patents and settled on Cubb Creek previous to 1723. Bought land on Bull Swamp from his brother Wm. Killed by an Indian 1725. Their children were:-

Early Harris Records - From W. Lee Harris (Cont'd)

- (15) William wed. (name doubtful) 3 children.
- (16) Thomas Harris, Jr. wed. Elizabeth Lindsey. Moved from Cubb Creek in 1750 to Amelia Co., which was included in Prince Edward Co. in 1754. Will, Prin. Edw. Co. Book 1, page 339.
- (17) David Harris wed. widow Richardson whose maiden name was Jane Landy. Lived in Hanover, land deals in Prin. Edw. and other counties. Settled his two sons - Giles and Lewis in Prin. Edw. 1765. Died about 1777.
- (18) George Harris
- (19) John Harris wed. Mary Tinsley, married and left Cubb Creek in Hanover Co. in 1748, settled on land between Buffalo River and Fall Cr. then in Amelia, but later included in Prince Edw. A few years later his brother Thomas (16) settled on land adjoining.
- (20) Stephen Harris wed. and had a family in Hanover.
- (21) Claiborne (Ned) Harris, He was on Thomas' (16) list as youngest son, but we have not been able to identify him associating with his borthers.

David Harris, third son of Thomas (7) was wed to Mrs. Richardson, said to have been the wife of Mark Richardson who was a partner with David in Land Company. Her maiden name was Jane Landy. Their children were given as:-

- (22) Giles Harris wed. widow Chandler, maiden name Ann Gray. They had three sons,- Edmond 1770, Claiborne 1772 and Obediah 1774.
- (23) Lewis Harris wed his cousin, Elizabeth Harris. They moved from Cubb Cr. on Little River in 1765 to Prince Edw. had eight children to be listed later on in this paper.

John Harris, son of Thomas (7) married Mary Tinsley. See No. 19, above. Their children were:-

- (24) Elizabeth Harris wed her cousin Lewis Harris, the son of David Harris (17)
- (25) David Harris wed Ann Watkins

Lewis (23) and Elizabeth (24) first cousins married and reared a family of eight children in Prin. Edw. Co., Va.

- (29) Giles Harris wed Elizabeth Thurman - six sons and three daughters moved to Madison Co., Ga.
- (30) John Harris wed Elizabeth Winn, moved to Tenn. in 1810, lived on Cumberland River owning land in both Sumner and Wilson Counties. 4 sons and 3 daughters.
- (31) Patience Harris married David Arnold in Prin. Edw. county and there lived, dying before 1818. Left two sons and two daughters.
- (32) Lewis Harris Jr. called Nat. wed Anna Wright. Finally settled in Maury Co. Tenn in 1820. They had no children.

Early Harris Records- From W. Lee Harris (Cont'd)

- (33) Gideon Harris wed Martha Gilliam in Prin. Edw. Co. Va., 1805, moved to Sumner Co., Tenn. 1810, to Wilson Co., Tenn. in 1812, to Maury Co., Tenn. in 1820, and there died 1860. Their children were:- noted later on in this -
- (34) Mary Harris, died while young lady before 1818.
- (35) Jane Harris called Polly born 1780, died 1829. She never married but cared for her mother till her death in 1818, then lived with her brother John.
- (36) David Harris, youngest child born 1781, married Mary Jesse in Prin. Edw. Co., Va. in 1820, moved to Maury Co., Tenn. that same year.

Gideon Harris and his wife Martha Gilliam married Dec. 25, 1805 in Prin. Edw. Co., Va. with the consent of her father, James Gilliam, witnessed by John Gilliam. They lived with Gideon's widowed mother, Elizabeth, in Prin. Edw. Co. until 1810 when Harrises, Gilliams, Meadors, Creaseys and others left Vaughan Cr. in Prin Edw for Tenn. in the fall of 1810. Gideon and Martha stayed in Sumner one year, then a few miles over Cumberland River in Wilson Co. for about eight years. In 1820 they moved to Maury Co. Tenn. and there settled for life. Their children were:-

- (37) Frances Hopkins Harris 1807-1863, married twice to Steele, and to Moore. She lived in Maury Co.
- (38) David Rice Harris 1808 - 1873, married twice to Rebecca Dillard and to Elizabeth Roberts. He lived in Hardin Co., Tenn. at Selma.
- (39) Elizabeth Lewis Harris 1809-1885, married John Vincent. Lived in Maury and Marshall, and reared a large family.
- (40) James Gilliam Harris 1811-1882, married three times to Mary Ann Daugherty, to Malissa Lowrance, and to Susan A. Hill. Lived on farm adjoining his father, was his administrator, and kept the box of papers previously referred to so often. He had a very large family of children:- Listed farther on in this paper.
- (41) Gideon Lindsey Harris 1813 - 1896, married three times to Lucy Ledbetter, Catherine McDaniel, and Mrs. Maggie Penny Harrison. He lived in McNairy Co., Tenn. and reared a large family.
- (42) Giles Glaiborne Harris 1815-1889 was married three times, when 21 years of age, he went to Sumner Co. to be with his Harris and Gilliam kin. There he married 1st to Catherine Meador, 2nd to Sarah Hawkins, 3rd to Mrs. Elizabeth Woods Davis. He reared a very large family in Sumner Co., Tenn.
- (43) John Gardner Harris 1817-1892 married Susanna London moved to Perry Co. Tenn. and they reared one daughter.
- (44) Sarah G. Harris 1823-1854 married W. F. Baxter, lived in Marshall Co., Tenn. Died after having one child.

Early Harris Records- From W. Lee Harris (Cont'd)

- (45) Martha Jane Harris 1826-1914 married W. F. Baxter after the death of her sister, Sara G. Five sons and one daughter blessed this union.

James Gilliam Harris (40) son of Gideon and Martha, was my grand father. He was named for his grandfather, James Gilliam. James Gilliam lived on adjoining farmes to his father in what became Marshall Co. after its formation in 1836. He had a large family composed of two sets of children. His first wife, Mary Ann Daugherty was the mother of:-

- (535) Sarah Elizabeth Harris 1832-1893 married 1st Kerr, 2nd Graves.
 (536) Mary Tinsley Harris 1834-1897 married 1st to Dilehay, 2nd to Brown.
 (537) Martha Jane Harris 1835-1915 married Batey 2nd to Stinson.
 (538) Elizabeth Lewis Harris died age one year.

My record and manuscript has been accepted by DAR, American Daughters of the colonies, and the Colonial Dames. The Colonial Dames were hesitant about it and asked for the old diary of Thomas Harris (16) whose will was left in Prin. Edw. Co. 1782. I told them that I did not have it and had never seen it, and doubted whether it was in extant; but that I had extracts from coming from more than one source, and had been able to prove by public records much of the contents. They finally accepted it and are now granting membership to all who can prove their descent.

My co-workers in Va. have not been able to say for certain that your Claiborne was the son of Thomas (7) but suspect that it is a fact. They are convinced that Robert Harris and his wife, Mary Claiborne, had other children besides William. There were John, Thomas & Robert Jr., and possibly Mary and Judith. John is the only one who might be doubted, but he fits in no other place, and his association, location and activities all show his connection either as brother or cousin.

W. Lee Harris

Early Harris Records- From W. Lee Harris (Cont'd)

Thomas (16) son of Thomas (7) with his Journal including his will, ancestors, descendants, etc., needs to be closely scrutinized because it was written before 1784 and has some data not found in any later papers. That is why I made two trips to Va. and studied every document possible bearing along the line of this journal. I found many records lost, burned, or decayed, but enough to satisfy my mind that the papers was correct in all points capable of being proven, and that lead me to accept it as a fact. Then a second copy of the journal was found by Judge Minus King Harris in Fresno, Calif. brought there by descendants of this Thomas (16). He sent me this in 1936. The judge died in a few weeks after we were in correspondence. His copy was the same as mine except fuller. It had Claiborne as the youngest son, and also said that he was generally called Ned.

One thing especially interesting to me was the mention of the children of his grandfather, Robert Harris and his wife, Mary Claiborn, who was a widow Rice before marrying his grandfather Robert Harris. He listed his uncles and aunts as: William, Mary, Judith, John and Robert, Jr. Other writers have included William who married Temperance Overton, but have made no mention of other children. Robert & Mary lived in New Kent, near the Forks, and the records of New Kent are not available, so we can not prove much about the children of Robert & Mary. But from the patent office there is found an association justifying the conclusion. Then E. S. Johnson in 1896 claimed that there was evidence of suspecting other children. Also Dr. Malcolm Harris is of the same opinion. He says that in the vicinity of West Point, Va. he finds Harrises who claim to be descendants of Robert Harris and Mary Claiborn, and that they are not descended from William and Temperance.

Mrs. Morton of Farmville, Va. can secure you a copy of the will of Thomas (16). She will find it in Book 1, page 339. He had a grandson named Gilliam Harris and also one named Giles Harris. In his will mention is made of his wife, Elizabeth. In his journal he says that he married Miss Elizabeth Lindsey. In his will his oldest son David is mentioned. In his journal he says that his son David married Miss Lucy Vaughan and that they had, sons:- John, Edward, Gilliam and Giles. On other son married Susan Gilliam, who was the neice of Martha Gilliam, the wife of Gideon Harris.

It is not only possible but highly probable that you belong to this family descending from Robert and Mary through Thomas (7) and his youngest son, Claiborne.

Most all Harrises seem to be descended from Colonial stock coming from one of three sources:- John Harris of Penna. who was the founder of Harrisburg; Thomas Harris of Isle of Wight Co., Va., was there in 1650; and Thomas Harris, probably the first to come was here 1611 at Jamestown. We are from the latter.

Dear Sir:

"Your letter of December 15 calling attention to errors in my little book almost aroused the ire in me, but having come across an account by one Thomas Harris of Prince Edward County Virginia written in the form of a diary, I thought I would fall in line with you, I found this paper in the family of Walker who claim to be descended of this Thomas Harris who wrote the account and also left a will in said county. It seems that the family came west long ago, and brought the diary with them or parts of it. This account so nearly parallels your statement that I am convinced and have cooled off. You should have been a lawyer the way you sift evidence and reach conclusions.

In this paper I find that Robert Harris was in early life a sailor, but finally settled in Va. Both your account and this one name the children of Thomas H. but I note one discrepancy. This paper I have gives the name of the youngest child as Claiborne while you give the same names except name of the last one as Ned. This may have been a kind of nickname used by the family. And this may account for the fact that you have never been able to identify him among his brothers.

I am now very sorry that I ever wrote the little book that I sent you. If I were some twenty years younger I would write another and more complete one.

The source of William & Temperance must have come from the Overton papers, and they were interested in only William is the reason no other children of Robert were in the list. I am descended from William and Temperance and you will find many of my line in Sumner and Dyer counties, Tennessee. Yet several of them have come west and are in California."

I shall be happy to hear from you any time.

RE: Benjamin Harris, Estate

Dear Madam:

I have checked the records of this office and I find where one Benjamin Harris died Intestate in 1833.

I have checked over the record, which is very incomplete as was the case in those days, and I find that in the pleadings they state that he left eleven children, eight boys and three girls. I have been able to find these names: Gillison Harris, James Harris, Caron Harris, Wyatt Harris, Archibald Harris, Sally Harris, and Rebecca Burden. James Harris was appointed administrator of the estate. Perhaps, the reason no other names appear is because of some indebtedness some of the children did not share in the estate.

The other estates listed with us up to 1851 are as follows:

Handy Harris (1805) died Testate
Jonathan Harris (1822) Intestate
Benjamin Harris (1833) Intestate
Jas. S. Harris (1833) Testate
Nathaniel Harris (1837) Testate
John Harris (1838) Intestate
Gillison Harris (1843) Intestate
John Harris (1844) Intestate
John Harris, Esq. (1845) Testate
Joshua Harris (1849) Intestate

Very truly yours,

Ralph F. King

From- Pendleton South Carolina Messenger- 1820
(S.C. Historical & Genealogical Mag. 47- p. 81)

"Melancholy Accident! Died on Saturday, the 5th instant, Mr. Andrew Robinson, of This District, by a fall from his horse. He was returning from muster, in company with several others, on the road between the house of Mr. Archibald Harris and Christopher Orr's store, some of the company determined to run their horses. Mr. Robinson was chosen to be a Judge of the race; he with another young man pitched upon to be the other judge, set off to take their stand at the other end of the race ground; on the way Robinson's horse ran him against a tree, and distressing to relate, gave him a deadly wound. Medical aid was procured without delay, but in about fifteen or twenty minutes after the physician arrived, the patient expired. His head was bruised, several ribs broken, the fractured ends of which were supposed to have pierced his lungs. Mr. Robinson was in the prime of life; he has left a wife and three children to lament his sudden and unexpected death.

"Okalona, Miss. Dec. 16, 1920- I heard my father say his father was a fine military man and officer in Rev. War. Tell yr children that yr Harris ancestors originated from the Claiborn Harris Clan of Scotland a military and political party fine blood and Christain Protestants.--- Isham Harris a Tenn. former Senator (U.S.) also Governor of Tenn. when Tenn. seceded was related to our Harris family. Also an old lady in Ga. wrote me that former Governor Nat. Harris of Ga. was a cousin of mine."

(from same dated 1923):

"Mrs. Alice Strickland (grand-daughter of Lorenzo Dow Harris) told me she heard that my father left home or rather ran away from his home in Ga. as his widowed Mother had several sons at home younger than he. My father was the oldest child of a large family-- (There were older children married) I was born when my father was old and remember him saying his father was a very fine looking Military man in his officers uniform."

(from letter written to Mattie Miller by Alice Strickland 1923):

"I have always heard that my grandfather Lorenzo Dow Harris who was a brother to your father had uncles one of which was distinguished in the Rev. War- one was named Clayborn--- They all came originally from S.C. All that I ever knew was that five of the brothers- Archy, James, Wyatt, Ezekiel, and my grandfather Lorenzo Dow all settled in Ga., and your grandfather Overton went to Miss."

(from letter written to Mattie Miller by May Wilson 1923 (grand-daughter of Ezekiel Harris):

"Benjamin Harris was born in N.C. and died in S.C. I think his father's name was Claiborne. Benjamin's wife was Caron Gillison. Benjamin Harris had eleven children my father knew six of them Archibald, Dow, Jim, Wyatt, Aunt Caron married a Mr. Gear and went to Texas, and an aunt who married Mr. Joe Thompson. My father thinks the others died in S.C. Except your father, Overton, who went to Miss. The information I have just given you my father told me. He said tell you his grandmother Harris had Scotch-Irish in her."

CHART of Proof Records- from Claiborn Harris of Granville Co., N.C. to Claud Callaway, son of Angie Ray Harris.

Claiborn Harris - citizen of Granville County, N.C. at time he gave service in Rev. War. Given land grant in Tenn. for his Rev. Service. Was mentioned as deceased in 1810 (this from court record of his son, Benjamin, on record in Anderson Co. So. Carolina Book K page 248 Pendleton Dist. Records). Deeds as early as 1754 found in Granville Co., N.C. to him, one 1787 naming wife of Claiborn Harris as Judith. Our Claiborn Harris would have had to have been born by ac 1745 or likely before to have been of age to have been grandfather by 1789 or before, so it is most likely that the first record found in Granville Co., N.C. deed 1754, is of our Claiborn. There was evidently a younger Claiborn in Granville Co. as we find records too late to be of the father of Benjamin. The younger Claiborn most likely was the son of the elder Claiborn, as we find mentioned in old family letter, that Benjamin had a brother Claiborn.

Benjamin Harris- born in North Carolina, son of Claiborn Harris of Granville Co., N.C. Married before 1792 Karenhappuch Gillison, daughter of Archibald Gillison (his will 1792 Abbeville, S.C. names his daughter, Karenhappuck Harris. Archibald Gillison was from Parish Brumfield, Culpeper Co., Va., where we find deed mentioning him and his wife Jean (Jane) 1760). Benjamin Harris' son, Archibald was born May 20, 1789. Benjamin Harris died 1833 in Anderson Co., S.C. leaving, as mentioned in court record, wife Karen Harris, 8 sons and 3 daughters, named were: Archibald (b. 1789 d. 1856 Forsyth Co., Ga.); Mary; Overton (b. 1798 N.C. d. 1894 Miss.); James (b. 1795 d. 1857 Forsyth Co., Ga.); Lorenzo Dow (b. 1804 d. 1870 Forsyth Co., Ga.); Ezekiel (b. 1808 d. 1894 Ringgold Ga.); Elizabeth (m. John Geer); Wyatt. Benjamin Harris' wife and children moved to Georgia (most in Forsyth Co.) after his death.

Archibald Harris- born May 20, 1789 (family records give N.C.) died Dec. 22, 1856 Forsyth Co., Ga. Married Mary (Polly) Thompson, b. 1801 d. 1886 (dau. of Joseph Thompson of Anderson Dist. S.C.). Archibald Harris' son William b. in Anderson Dist. S.C. Feb. 1. 1820, d. Feb. 8, 1884 Whitfield Co., Ga. Other children of Archibald & Mary were: Anderson V. b. ac 1829; David F. b. ac 1831; Smith C. b. ac 1833; Sarah J. b. ac 1836; Frances E. b. ac 1839; Josephine b. 1841; Drucilla b. ac 1843, Septian b. ac 1845. TALES OF THE SONS OF BENJAMIN HARRIS

Told by Their Grandchildren

Archibald Harris- written by his granddaughter, Cora Powell:

"I saw my grandmother Harris. I was so small I only remember her as being blind and smoking a pipe. I heard Mother speak of Grandpa Harris as owning a large farm and having lots of negroes. One negro called Mose left some grass round a stump and Grandpa called him back to get it, for he wouldn't leave any grass any where. Mose was afraid to pull it out, so Grandpa took his finger to show him how, didn't get it all so took his other finger and brought out a large snake. He clamped his wrist and begged them to cut off the finger, but none would do it. He had spells every year, until he died at that same time of year. So the snake caused his death."

James Harris- written by his granddaughter, Esther Harris Phillips:

"I heard my father tell many stories of James Harris, who was my grandfather. I never did see him, as he died long before I was born. Grandfather's hobby was raising deer. He had deer and hogs and log cabins for his negroes. When they killed hogs, Grandfather used to come out and holler, "put a cob in that hogs mouth". He raised lots of corn and wheat and was very wealthy. He had a horn full of gold. He kept it behind the logs in the wall. He had slaves in slave time. He died during the Civil War and left Grandmother with the freed slaves on her hands. So she lost her negro slaves."

Overton Harris- written by his granddaughter, Adel Miller Gibson:

"Overton Harris came to Mississippi when he was about fifteen years old. One of the first years he was in Mississippi he lost a coin purse with $1.75 in it, he was broke. The next year when he was plowing he found that purse and said that after that time he was never again broke. He worked hard, saved his money, bought land and was very successful in business.

"When the war between the states closed he had about 300 slaves. A number of them wanted to stay with him. Some left and came back. He fired an overseer once because he cursed a negro slave. An old slave, Uncle Bill Moore, told me how he and my grandfather hid the family silver 'down in the bottom' from the Yankes. Some of them tried to make him tell where the silver was hidden, and tied him up by his thumbs. My grandfather found an officer from the northern side who made them take the negro down.

"Overton Harris continued to have a great deal of talent for making money, up to his very old age. After he was ninety years old, he was riding a mule or horse to see if it was what he wanted to buy. It threw him and broke his leg.

"Years after his death we were told of many charitable deeds he performed, which he never mentioned. He gave unlimited help to many ministers and their families over a period of years. He bought and furnished a home for one 'circuit rider' minister.

"My two sisters and I own the plantation where grandfather lived. This land has been in our family ever since Ann Elizabeth Clark bought it from the Indians."

Lorenzo Dow Harris- written by his grandson, Charlie Harrell:

"This one about Uncle Zeak's visit- One day Grandma and Grandpa was sitting on the porch and the kids and darkies playing in the yard. A wagon stopped, a man got out and came walking towards the house. All eyes and mouths were open. Grandpa was the first to recognize Uncle Zeak. He jumped off the porch and ran to meet him with arms up. They ran together and clinched and began going round and round, laughing and crying and chanting in an unknown tongue. The kids and darkies were excited, but could see that they were not fighting, so they formed around in a circle and went round and round. Finally Uncle Zeak blubbered, "Dow, I love you better than you do me". Grandpa says, "how can you tell?". Uncle Zeak says, "I am hugging you harder than you are me". Then they all knew who it was, and negroes fell down and began rolling and hollering and laughing and the kids ran up and grabbed them by the legs, climed up on their backs and sholders and mixed up in the hugging and kissing jubilee. That was the Harris way."

"This one on Grandpa- During the Civil War, with their men away and Yankies prowking in the vacinity, Aunt Martha and Aunt Caline gave the negroes the meat to hide in the woods. When the Yanks were gone, the meat was gone also. They put their heads together, as to what to do. One said, "all I know is to go to Dad's, but I had rather take a beating". The other said, "so had I, but there is no consolation; when he gets through calling us out we will get the meat". Sure enough when they got there with their tale of woe, he snorted and they stood, heads down, and listened to his uncomplimentary remarks about their gray matter, or the lack of it. Then another snort with his nose in the air, he grabbed their sacks, filled them with ham and fat backs tied them on their saddles and as they rode off he gave this parting shout, "if you two block heads find your way home stay there you need not be comming back here". When out of range they sang out in unison, "O.K. Dad we won't until we get out of meat again". And they laughed all the way home, two and half miles, and continued to laugh every time they told it, which they had to do at every family gathering. That sent us on our ways laughing and crying and loving each other more and more. He never blamed the darkies or ask why they stole the meat. He knew why; it was the only way they had to get sweet meats for their women and children, that they loved as we do ours. Fuss with them, not Grandpa. He kept the gate open to their cabin and they practiced the good neighbour policy with the early settlers. There was never a one of his family but what you might well be proud to claim kin. With Harrises hanging around every forks road, some pulling some pushing to keep me headed in the right direction, I never had a chance to get in trouble or see inside of a Hoos-gow in my 88 years. Blessed be their name for ever more."

Ezekiel Harris- written by his granddaughter, Lorah Harris Graham:

"My grandfather, Ezekiel Harris, was recognized as an outstanding citizen of the highest honor and integrity, and very public spirited. I think he came from Forsyth County to Catoosa County, Georgia, nearly one hundred years ago. He was a large land owner and successful farmer. After the Civil War some of his slaves refused to leave his employe and bought property and worked for his family as long as they lived. He was so honest at heart and in all his dealings that he judged other men largely to be the same and often lent money without even taking a simple note to secure payment.

"Grandfather was a man of deeply religious faith. He was an outstanding Methodist of his day and a generous giver. He considered it his privilege and pleasure to attend the Methodist Conferences along with the preachers, and gave so generously to the various calls of the Church that he often had to borrow money from his friends to get home.

"Grandfather once owned the present Catoosa Target Range, and large acerage around there. In his spacious house on the hill I remember attending his and Grandmother's Golden Wedding Anniversary, about seventy years ago. Hundred of guests were present.

"Grandmother was the personification of gentleness. Grandfather was sometimes bluntly outspoken, but he had a heart of gold. In their hospitable home God was honored dailey and the Bible was the guide for solving their many problems."

Archibald Gillison's Revolutionary Record was verified by National Daughters Of The American Revolution, on Jan. 13, 1953, and lineage proven to Maud Callaway Hays (granddaughter of the late Angie Harris Callaway). D.A.R. No. 368507.

Early Family History-

Earliest records we have of the Gillisons in this country, are of the three brothers, I John, II James and III Archibald of Caroline and Culpeper counties in Virginia in the mid-seventeen hundreds.

I- John, first of the three Gillison brothers of Virginia, was a captain in the Revolutionary War, had a son, John Gillison, Jr.

From- Virginia Magazine Vol. 79 page 392:

"John Gillison, Captain 10th Va. Nov. 18, 177- transferred to 6th Va., Sept. 14, 1778; taken prisoner at Charleston, May 12, 1780, retired Jan. 1, 1783."

From- Notes on Culpeper County- by Green II page 2:

Culpeper In The Revolution

"Immediately on the breaking out of the war in 1775 Patrick Henry, then commander of the Virginia troops, sent to this section of the colony for assistance. Upon his summons, 150 men from Culpeper (eight companies, one raised by Captain John Gillison), 100 from Orange, and 100 from Fauquier, rendezvoused here, half a mile west of Fairfax. These were the first Minute Men in Virginia. The Flag used by the Culpeper men bore in its center the figure of a rattlesnake coiled in the act of striking- above which was inscribed 'The Culpeper Minute Men', on either side 'Liberty or Death' and beneath 'Don't Tread on Me'. The corps were dressed in green hunting shirts with the words 'Liberty or Death' in large letters on their bosoms. They wore in their hats bucktails and in their belts tomahawks and scalping knives. Their savage, war like appearance excited the terror of the inhabitants as they marched to Williamsburg, from there, those armed with rifles marched into Norfolk County and were engaged in the battle of the Great Bridge----- Capt. Jno. Gillison, while leading his men to attack at Brandywine, was struck in the forehead by a musket ball; the surgeon examined the wound and exclaimed, oh, Captain! it is a noble wound, right in the middle of the forehead, and no harm done."

From- Notes on Culpeper County- by Green II page 4:

"To the list of Culpeper worthies should be added the name of Colonel Gillison." (whether he was officially promoted to colonel or not is unknown)

WILL OF ARCHIBALD GILLISON

IN THE NAME OF GOD AMEN. I Archibald Gillison of Abbeville County and State of South Carolina being but low and weak in Body but of sound and perfect mind and memory, (Thanks be to God) do make this my last Will and Testament. Principally and first of all I recommend my Soul into the Hands of Almighty God who gave it me and my Body to be Buried in Christian like and decent manner at the discretion of my Executors. And as touching such worldly goods wherewith it hath pleased God to blefs me in this life I give and devise in manner and form following -----

Imprimis, I give and Bequeath to my beloved Wife Jean Gillison my whole Estate both Real and Personal during her Widowhood. In case she marries or when she deceases my Will is that my four Children Namely Elizabeth Price, Mary Harris, James Gillison and Karenhappuch Harris, do each of them Receive Twenty Shillings Sterling out of my Estate. This money to be raised by Selling something that my Executors may think can be best spared off the Plantation-

Item I give and bequeath to my Daughter Ann Gillison (at my Wifes decease or Marriage) all that Tract of Land whereon I now do live Containing One Hundred and Twenty Five Acres, and all my Household Furniture, Likewise one Bay Filley, and all that part of my Cattle and Hogs that is now called hers, both them and their increase -----

Item, In like manner I give and bequeath to John Gillison, Son of my Daughter Ann Gillison all the rimainder of my Estate of every kind or quality whatsoever, and my Will and desire is that he shall have a good and liberal Education given him, and that there be a reserve made by my Executors out of my Estate (before any division) of a Sufficiency to defray the expence of his Schooling -----

And I do hereby Constitute and appoint my three friends Tomas Nash, Stephen Harris, and Larkin Nash Executors to this my last Will and Testament, hereby disclaiming, Revoking and Disannulling All other Wills and Testaments whatsoever, and do proclaim, publish, Pronounce and declare this to be my last Will and Testament-----

Given under my Hand and Seal this third day of January in the Year of our Lord One Thousand Seven Hundred and Ninety Two----

GILLISON- Archibald's Grave-

From Mrs. Vandiver's History of Anderson County 1928- p. 177

Old Rutledge Graveyard- near Emmerson Bridge Road on Drake land.

Rutledge settled before Revolution on Government lands, laid out immense plantation, built two-story house, piped water from spring to 'Wash Place'. He had three daughters: one married Zacheriah Hall, another married John Martin and the third, Ann married James Emmerson, both Ann and James Emmerson along with a son are buried in this old graveyard. There are two graves marked by the rough native stones, but some care has been taken to shape them and the names and dates are chiseled on them. One is Arch Gillison, age 64, who died in March 1792. The inscription is almost illegible now, but by careful peering and using the fingers as the blind do, it may be deciphered. The other is Jane (Jean) Gillison, died Nov. 2, 1796, age 32 (should be 62, as she was age to have died in 1760 in Culpeper County, Va.) Whether she was his wife or his daughter is not stated (most surely was his wife). It is known where a Gillison house once stood in the neighborhood, but there are none of the name or kindred in the county now.

(this leaves a doubtful possibility that the Gillisons were related to the Rutledges).

Last Will of Joseph Thompson- 1810

In the name of God, Amen, I Joseph Thompson of the State of South Carolina and District of Pendleton, being very sick and weak in body but of perfect mind and memory do make and ordain this my Last Will and Testament, that is to say principally and first of all I give my soul to the Hand of Almighty God that gave it nothing doubting that I shall receive the same at the General Resurrection. My body I recommend to the earth to be buried at the discretion of my executors and as touching such worldly estate as it has pleased God to bless me with, I give, devise and bequeath in the following manner; that is to say I give Robert Thompson five shillings, Randson Thompson five shillings, Betty Garner five shillings; Zachariah Thompson five shillings and Joseph Thompson five shillings (each). The rest after my debts are paid I leave to Molly Thompson freely to possess during life, then to be equally divided between my three younger children, Rebecca, John and Polly. I leave Robert Thompson and Molly Thompson my true executor and executrix and I do utterly revoke and disallow all former wills, bequests, Executors and Executrix and declare this to be my last will and testament. In witness where unto I have set my hand and affixed my seal This Twenty-fifth day of February, One Thousand Eight and Ten. I leave Molly Thompson my lawful executrix to make rights to Robert Thompson for Ninety-six (96) acres of land which he bought of me and has not had rights, through neglect.

Life in Antrim and Armagh

In this section of Ireland most of the inhabitants lived in simple cottages with thatched roofs, and turf was used for fuel for the fires. Oat-cakes and oatmeal formed the chief diet. Meats were scarce and seldom appeared upon the table. The clothing was rough and home-made. The schools were poor, teaching only spelling, writing and the rudiments of English grammar and the teachers were in most cases very inefficient.

Farming was on a very primitive scale, and money scarce. Employment was difficult to find, wages were very low and often paid in produce from the farm. Many of these farms consisted of only three to five acres of land. Books were rare, reading matter scarce, and libraries unknown.

The moral tone of these Scotch-Irish people was sincere and true. They prized highly their Psalm-books and Bibles, and memorizing favorite passages of Scripture was common. Striking texts were marked, memorized, and often quoted. Living in many cases in houses without either chimneys or windows, with poverty pinching on every side, they had but little to lighten their gloom or bring good cheer. It must always be a marvel how amid such conditions these sturdy Scotch-Irish prayed and perserved and kept unshaken their faith in God's wisdom and His kindly providence.

Remembering conditions in Ireland in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries it is easy to understand the impression produced by the reports coming from America; rich lands in abundance; great forests of valuable woods; abundant coal and iron; good wages; unlimited opportunities of every kind, and the almost-Utopian promise of equality, freedom from injustice, civil and religious liberty, and, above all, a cessation of the intrigues of kings and rulers that had been the curse of Europe for centuries. Emigration to America promised salvation from a thousand ills and misfortunes. Original leases of lands began to expire in 1714; famines followed in 1725 and 1740, and hence it is easy to understand why large bodies of colonists turned to America; five hundred reached Boston at one time in 1718; and Pennsylvania, Virginia, North Carolina and other sections soon had thousands of the Scotch-Irish settlers who afterwards played such an important part in the growth and development of the United States. They had learned invaluable lessons in the past in the school of adversity, and could deeply appreciate the opportunities which their new homes offered.

There is much valuable source material of early families of Antrim and Armagh counties, Ireland, to be found in the records in charge of the Presbyterian Historical Society of Ireland at Belfast. There are very old congregational registers for both Antrim and Armagh, containing baptismal list, &c. Then there are the Muster Rolls for these counties for 1631 and the Hearth Money Rolls, 1669, for Antrim. In the Antrim book dating from 1674 to 1733 are found 2,600 entries of baptisms and 600 entries of marriages; the Armagh books date from 1707 to 1728 and from 1796 to 1809. While these old registers are very difficult to decipher in many instances, still to one familiar with such work, this ancient story is easily available. These lists of names concerning birth, baptism, marriage and death serve to connect the family history with days long past, and while all definite personal record concerning most of the individual names can never be had in full; still this source material is highly valuable as establishing the fact of place of family residence. It also serves to connect the family with the work of the church in many instances, because the mere fact that incidents in family life were entered upon the church records proves a regard for church ordinances, and a respect for church customs, that it is pleasant to remember after the lapse of these centuries

From Ireland to America

William Whitsitt, Joseph Whitsitt, and John Whitsett, three brothers, came from Antrim county, Ireland, to America in 1740. Antrim county was in the province of Ulster, and the brothers lived in the valley of the Lagan river. This district bore the name of Antrim as far back as the 14th century, and has many remains of the ancient days such as cairns, cromlechs, and ancient castles, among them Glenarm and Carrickfergus.

These three brothers became early settlers in the lower valley of the Susquehanna River in Pennsylvania, near Harrisburg, then known as Harris' Ferry; one of them later lived at Hannastown which was burned by the Indians in 1781; and still another settled at Pittsburg. The Indians gave such trouble to early settlers in this section, and all three brothers became noted Indian fighters; William Whitsitt, especially serving as scout and spy over what is now the counties of Fayette, Washington and Greene, and he never relented in his operations against the Indians because of their depredations in which his home had been destroyed. William Whitsitt seems to have been easily the leader of the brothers, and many traditions preserve accounts of his bravery and his fearless spirit in the frontier life of his day. When the Indian saw the ascending smoke of the first rude log cabins along the Susquehanna and the Monongahela he read the doom of his happy-hunting grounds, but it took stout hearts and unyielding spirit to face the painted warriors who swept down under the leadership of such chieftains as Logan and Tecumseh bent on death and destruction; William Whitsitt and his brothers were equal to the stern call of the hour. The small round log cabin of the white man had come to stay; to be replaced as time passed by the two-story, hewed log house, and later by sawn timbers, brick, and stone. The pioneer with coon-skin cap, and weather-beaten face, was finally to conquer the Alleghenies, and push westward towards the Rockies.

Much interest attaches to William Whitsitt, Joseph Whitsitt, and John Whitsitt because so far as known they were the first of their name to come to America, set up families, and become the founders of many family lines. Others of their name and connection rapidly followed, but these have the distinction of being the first immigrants.

Immigrant Ancestors

Samuel Whitsett (1664-1754) born, lived and died in Antrim county, Ireland.

William Whitsett (1689-1769) son of above, born, lived, and died in Antrim county, Ireland.

William Whitsett (1709-1798) son of above; married Elizabeth Dawson in Ireland, and came with his wife, and son, William Whitsett who was born in Ireland August 20, 1731, to Pennsylvania in 1740.

John Whitsett (1711-1796) came with his brother, William Whitsett (1709-1798) to Pennsylvania in 1740.

Joseph Whitsett (1711-1796) came with his brother, William Whitsett (1709-1798) and John Whitsett (1711-1796) to Pennsylvania in 1740.

The history of the earliest branch of the Whitsett family in the United States traces back to the family group that reached Pennsylvania in 1740; a group of five consisting of the three brothers, William, John, and Joseph Whitsett together with the wife and son of William Whitsett. The descendants of these three brothers became widely scattered over many states.

When they landed in Pennsylvania in 1740, William Whitsett and his wife, Elizabeth Dawson Whitsett, had one son as stated, William Whitsett, then nine years old, their other children were born here. (With exception of Henry b. 1730 in Ireland). John Whitsett and Joseph Whitsett married soon after their arrival and both had large families, so even before the Revolutionary War there were both children and grandchildren of the three original Whitsett brothers who had come across as the first immigrants of this family line. Certain of these families have preserved the family record and are able to trace their lines back to the original immigrants, but others are unable to do so, although they know in a general way that they are descended from this Scotch-Irish ancestry.

It must be remembered, also, that following 1740 there were several other immigrants of the Whitsett name coming from Antrim and Armagh counties, Ireland, to America who became the founders of families of this name but not of direct kinship with the family from which William, Joseph, and John Whitsett had come. For this reason, while numerous Whitsett families trace to these three Pennsylvania Whitsett brothers, other Whitsett families trace to other immigrants of the family who came across after the year 1740. All, though, have the same general Scotch-Irish ancestry as herein explained.

The Austin Whitsett Family Branch

Austin Whitsett was born in Orange county, North Carolina, Feb. 5, 1808, and died Nov. 29, 1890, near Graham, Alamance county, and is buried in Providence Cemetery. He was married in March, 1833, to Margaret Barbara Bason, born Oct. 9, 1817, died Nov. 30, 1902. She was a daughter of Joseph Bason whose wife was Barbara Foust, a sister of Daniel Foust of Guilford county.

Austin Whitsett's parents were John Whitsett (1782-1845) and Ruth (Low) Whitsett (1790-1846).

His grandparents were Samuel Whitsett (1752-1832) and Mary (Stockard) Whitsett (1760-1830).

His great grandparents were Henry Whitsett (1730-1800) who came to North Carolina in 1770 from Pennsylvania or Virginia, and his wife, Jane (Mebane) Whitsett who died in 1802. This Henry Whitsett was a brother of William Whitsett (1731-1811), and both were born in Ireland, and had come to America with their parents in 1740.

His great great grandparents were the original immigrants, William Whitsett (1709-1798) and his wife Elizabeth (Dawson) Whitsett who came to America from Ireland in 1740 with their two sons, Henry and William, and two brothers, John Whitsett and Joseph Whitsett.

Samuel Whitsett, grandfather of Austin Whitsett, had four sons, - Moses, James who married Sarah Jackson, John who married Ruth L. Low, and William who married Jane Harden and was a Presbyterian minister in Tennessee.

Austin Whitsett had four brothers who moved to Missouri, - Alfred, James, Low and Emsley; and two sisters, one married Hugh Shaw, the other Rev. Joseph Albright.

Margaret (Bason) Whitsett, wife of Austin Whitsett, had five brother, Jeremiah who married Celia Dickey, Henry who married Mary Trollinger, Joseph R. who married Julia Fogleman, Goerge, and Dr. William F., also four sisters, Maria who married Constantine Sellers, Catharine who married Andrew Murray, Sarah, and Barbara.

On May 27, 1928 a handsome granite and bronze memorial marker was erected to the memory of Jacob Bason (1741-1800) the pioneer of the Bason family in this part of North Carolina. It stands in Hawfield's Cemetery, near Mebane, North Carolina, and was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies in the presence of a large gathering, and the historical address of the occasion traced the story of the Bason family to its original sources.

Whitsitt Records- Doctor William Heth Whitsitt:

Whitsitt- William Heth (Nov. 25, 1841- Jan. 20, 1911)
 Baptist minister and theological seminary president, son of Reuben Ewing Whitsitt of Nashville, grandson of Rev. James Whitsitt. Educated: Union University, University of Virginia, Sou. Baptist Seminary, University of Leipzig & Berlin. His final work was professor of philosophy at Richmond College.
 Married Florence Wallace of Woolford Co., Ky. in 1881. Wrote
 "Annals of a Scotch-Irish Family" copied here in part:

"Preliminary- The Whitsitt family is widely extended.
 Persons bearing their name and blood may be found in nearly every portion of the United States and Canada, as also in Ireland and Scotland. -----

Nocenclature- The Whitsitts are a numerous tribe in Ireland, where they bore and still bear the name of Whiteside. Mr. Hanna in his important work, "The Scotch-Irish; or the Scot in North Britain, North Ireland and North America", does not mention the name Whitsitt as occurring in Ireland, but there is quite a force of the Whitesides there, mainly in the counties of Antrim and Armagh. James Whiteside of county Wicklow ac 1806 became Lord Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench in Ireland.-----
 In their Scottish home the Whitesides appear to have been a sept of the Bell clan of Annandale. In the year 1685 John Bell, of Whiteside, seems to have been at the head of this clan, and the following notice is taken of his death: "Sir Robert Grierson, of Lagg, having the command of a party of Claverhouse's troop,
 and Strachan's Dragoons, surprised John Bell, of Whiteside;
 David Halliday, portioner of Mayfield; Andrew McCrabit, James Clement and Robert Lenox, of Irlintoun, and barbarously killed them after quarter, without time allowed to pray. When John Bell of Whiteside, begged a little time to pray, Lagg answered:
 Whatt the devil have ye been doing? Have ye not prayed enough these many years in the hills? and he shot him presently, in the Parish of Tongland in Galloway, February 1685. (Hanna II p 258)"--

First Entry- William Whitsitt II, the son of William Whitsitt I, the son of Samuel Whitsitt (all of Ireland), married Elizabeth Dawson, of Ireland. William Whitsitt III, son of the aforesaid William, married Miss Ellen Menees, daughter of James Menees----- He died at the residence of his son, the Rev. James Whitsitt, in the vicinity of Nashville, Tennessee, July 14, 1811.
 Here are four generations of the family. Of these the first two died in Ireland. William Whitsitt II was the immigrant, and shortly after the year 1731 he came over the sea with his wife, Elizabeth (Dawson) Whitsitt and their son, William Whitsitt III, who had been born in their Irish home on the 20th of August 1731.
 (also their son, Henry born in Ireland in 1730, is given in other records). It is assumed that the Nashville Whitsitts landed in Pennsylvania along with the other Scotch-Irish immigrants; but the ship that bore them and the precise date of its arrival are as yet unknown.

Whitsitt Records - Dr. Wm. Heth Whitsitt: (Cont'd)

From- Foote's Sketches of Virginia- "On the 10th of February 1890, a letter from Mr. Joseph G. Whitsitt (this was son of Moses Whitsitt and sister of Minerva Jane Whitsitt Harris) of Belton, Texas, inquired regarding a tradition to effect that his ancestors came to America in the same ship with the ancestors of General Samuel Houston. The names of five of the Houstons occur in connection with that of William Whiteside, and it seems not improbable that the Whitsitts of Belton were derived from him. The name of Moses Whiteside also appears. Among the Whitsitts of north Georgia the name of Moses has been often used."

Whiteside Creek- William Whiteside II, the immigrant found a home in the midst of the stout Scotch-Irish colonists, who, coming down the Valley of Virginia, had crossed the Blue Ridge into Albermarle at and after the year 1737. The South Fork of Mechums River ran through his land and acquired the name of Whiteside Creek, which it has carried ever since on the maps of Albemarle. He sold this land July 7, 1767.

William Whiteside III- William III was a member of the Albemarle Militia (Hening 7, 203) ----- He married ac 1763 Ellen Menees, who lived near Amherst Court House. At this time he purchased 200 acres of land from John Wade. With this record he began to change his name spelling back to Whitsitt. He sold this land and purchased in 1767, 300 acres from his father-in-law in Amherst. William II, the immigrant could not resist following his son to Amherst, where he died ac 1770. It is possible that William the immigrant and Elizabeth had other children than William III (not only possible but a fact, Henry born in Ireland 1730 being a son).

Changing the Name- The responsibility of changing the name of the Nashville family from Whiteside to Whitsitt appears to rest with William Whitsitt III. His father always signed himself Whiteside, and the name of the son was written Whiteside in the records of the Albermarle Militia. But records of the Amherst period show he called himself Whitsitt. Nearly all of those who have contracted the name from Whiteside prefer to spell it Whitsett, but the Nashville family have always insisted upon the form Whitsitt."

(the family of Moses Whitsett used the Whitsitt spelling mainly, although Moses himself spelled it Whitsett. So both forms of spelling, also Whiteside will be found in these records, but all are members of the same family of the immigrant, William Whitsett II) with his two brothers, John and Joseph. Married in Ireland- Elizabeth Dawson, and had two sons born in Ireland, Henry b. 1730 and William b. 1731."

Naturalization Record- Adam Whitsett (probably son of John or Joseph) and Henry (son of William II, the immigrant, and grandfather of Moses Whitsett):

From Orange County Court Records:

North Carolina, Hillsborough District-

"At a Superior Court of Justice begun and held for the district aforesaid at the Court house in Hillsborough on Saturday the 22nd day of September 1770. Present- The Honorable Henderson, Associate Justice- Adam Whitsett & Henry Whitsett appeared in open court & took the oaths prescribed by Parliament for Naturalization. Will of Anthony Thompson- Father of Nancy Thompson Bird, who later married Moses Whitsett.

In the name of God Amen.

I Anthony Thompson of the County of Orange and State of North Carolina being of sound mind and memory do make this my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking and disannulling all other wills by me heretofore made and do pronounce this to be my Last Will & Testament.

I recommend my soul to God who gave it and my body to be decently buried and for what worldly goods it hath pleased God to bestow on me I give devise and direct in the following manner & form, to wit:

I have given and advanced unto my son Anderson Thompson fifty acres of land by a reference to the deed. Will more fully appear the said fifty acres of land I charge him six hundred dollars to be settled and accounted for in the settlement of my estate. I have also advanced unto my said Son Anderson one horse creature, some stock, household & kitchen furniture and I authorize and desire my executors or my wife to give to each child a like as near as can be done in value, stock, household & kitchen furniture as has been given in the out fitt of each of eldest children, provided it can be made out of my own without purchasing.

Item 2'd. I give and bequeath unto my son William Thompson fifty acres of land whereon he now lives including all I own on the south side of the great road west of Isaac Watts Gum Corner and then run paralel with Kecks line for compliment, which land I value at Five hundred dollars to be accounted for at the final settlement of my estate.

Item 3'd. I give and bequeath unto my son Marmaduk Michael Thompson the tract of land adjoining the land of Barney clap and others on Beaver Creek, containing thirty acres more or less at the price of Two Hundred Dollars to be accounted for at the settlement of my Estate.

Item 4th. I lend the use of all the remaining part of land unto my loving wife during her natural life with all the improvements thereon and undesturbed by any person and after her death I give and bequeath unto my son Anthony (after the death of my wife) all that tract of land loaned her whereon I now live bounded by William Thompson's Track yet to be laid off & others with all the improvements thereon to him & his heirs forever at the rate and price of eight hundred dollars to be settled and accounted for in the settlement of my estate.

Item 5th. I lend unto my beloved wife during her natural life (after selling a sufficiency to discharge all my debts) all my stock of horses, cattle, hogs, sheep & my wagon, Black smith tools, farming & tools of all kinds which are on the plantation, all my household & kitchen furniture and I further lend unto my beloved wife during her natural life (under the following requisitions) all my negro slaves for her use & benefit during her natural life but should it so happen that my negroes should so increase agreeable to the common course of nature of things all the first negroes born after the date of this will so soon as they arrive to the age of five or six years of age to be given at its fair valuation to be valued by three freeholders in the neighbourhood and the said valuation made out in writing which shall be evidence of the value or in any other just way so that the value may be perpetuated which shall be the amount said child shall account for at the final settlement of my estate, the gift shall commence with my daughters first until they have negro property nearly to equal with the price of my sons land after giving each daughter one negro then after that may happen it is my will & desire that my son Marmaduk M. Thompson shall have the next young negro at its valuation as above.

Item 6th. I give and bequeath unto my daughter Polly one negro girl of the value of one hundred and fifty dollars after the death of my wife or value thereof in the final settlement of my estate over and above all the rest of my children on account of her misfortune of having one of her hands injured.

Item 7th. After the death of my wife it is my will and desire that all my negroes shall be divided amongst all my children by valuation of three good and lawfull men appointed by the County Court or by any three Justices out of Court who shall be unconnected to either party, and in the first those men shall value all the negroes and distribute them amongst the children as nearly equal as can be done by charging each Son with the price of his land as above stated & also the daughters with those negroes advanced to them should there be any at the price and valuation made at the time of the delivering of the said negroes (in the first place reserving one if there should be such a one of the value of One Hundred & Fifty dollars for Polly as above mentioned) and charge each child with the amount he has received and so on with the balance of negroes on hand until the whole are distributed round and those children who should happen to have the larger amount shall pay to the lesser until the whole of my children shall have equal share & share alike, to wit: Nancy, Jane, Anderson, Letty, William, Dilly, Marmaduk, and Anthony, and my Daughter Polly to have one hundred and fifty dollars over and above all the rest and I further provide that after the death of my wife for all my stock, household & kitchen furniture or any property not herein provided to be sold and the money arising therefrom perhaps maybe sufficient to bring & make up the unequal fractions due in the division of the negroes which division when completed to each of my said children above, or to them, or their heirs forever.

And I further provide that should some of my or their, heirs, live in some distant country and not present at the time of said division as above directed then & in that case, the men appointed to make the said division shall make out an account for each child for the land and negroes so divided by naming at full length the name of each negro & land to the different legatees and make a return of the same to court for safe keeping. And should one of my legatees be about and not money enough raised by the sale of property as above mentioned for to make up a fraction that might be due from his or her lot of negroes, then & in that case it is my will that those negroes shall be hired out until the money can be made and the legatees who are entitle to receive the same shall wait until the money may be received by the hiring the said negroes and pay the money due in such case.

I nominate my wife Polly Thompson my Executrix to this my last Will & Testament - during her life and after her death I request the County Court to appoint two good men capable to divide and settle my estate agreeable to the foregoing Will.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 5th day of August 1824.

Codicil To The Foregoing Will

I have in the foregoing Will bequeath unto my daughter Jane, wife of John James, an interest in the division of distribution of my negroes slaves as by said will directed. I do hereby revoke said bequest and in lieu thereof I bequeath to my sons Marmaduke M. Thompson and Anthony Thompson, Jr. and to the survivor or survivors of them and to the Executors or Administrators of the survivor of them the negro slaves allotted to her in the foregoing will according to the distribution when made in trust for my daughter Jane wife of John James during her natural life but subject to be taken out of her possession and hired out by the said Trustees whenever they may think proper, it being my intention that she shall have the use of the said slaves for her support and maintenance free and clear from any disposition or control of her husband and no way liable to his debts, and after the death of the said Jane to be equally divided amongst her children including all the increase of said negro slaves.

In the distribution of my land to my sons, certain tracks at certain prices and an exchange of lands of swap of lands have taken place between my two sons William & Marmaduke, and for the purpose of carrying into full effect the said exchange I have executed a deed for Marmaduke's land to William's use and William has received the money for the same I have in the foregoing will bequeathed unto my son William fifty acres of land at the price of five hundred dollars. I do hereby revoke the bequest of land to my son William and in lieu thereof I give and bequeath the same land unto my son Marmaduke M. Thompson to him and his heirs forever. I do hereby revoke the bequest of land on Beaver Creek to my son Marmaduke M. Thompson have sold the same to son William's use and benefit.

In the foregoing codicil I have revoked and charged the gift of land between my sons William & Marmaduke but I do not intend to change the sums of money which I have charged them, in the settlement of my estate for Marmaduke has paid William the difference of price in his own funds, I do hereby provide & bequeath that my son William Thompson shall account in the settlement of my estate and be charged with the same, the sum of five hundred dollars for benefits received in land and I do hereby provide & bequeath that my son Marmaduke M. Thompson shall account in the settlement of my estate and be charged with the same the sum of Two Hundred Dollars for benefits rec'd in land.

It is my will and desire in the settlement of my estate that each of my children that have rec'd stock of any kind, household or kitchen furniture, & not to be noticed in a final settlement of my estate that each child, to be charged with the price of his land or negro slaves and not for any small article - It is my * will and desire that my daughter Nancy be charged at the final settlement of my estate with the sum of fifty dollars by advancement to her for the moving of her and her family from the

Codicil To the Foregoing Will (Cont'd)

State of Tennessee and that sum shall be charged to her with the price of a negro or negroes at the final settlement of my estate and I do hereby revoke any thing in the foregoing will to the contrary notwithstanding.

I do hereby give and bequeath unto Archibald D. Murphy the sum of fifty dollars for the purpose of reimbursing to the said Archibald D. Murphy that sum which he advanced to my daughter Nancy without my consent to him or his heirs forever.

In witness of the foregoing codicil I do hereby sign seal and acknowledge this 7th day of June 1826.

Headquarters District Of The Etowah
Chattanooga, August 1st, 1864.

Jane Harris, Loyal Citizen of Tunnell Hill residing on the W & A RR is exemped from the operation of Paragraph I, General Order No. 2, from these Headquarters, of June 28, 1864, She having obliged herself to act at all times when practicable, as informant to the Federal authorities of all matters coming within her knowledge pertaining to the safety of its armies, lines of communications, guards, employees and property. A Failure to act as required by the conditions of this permit will be taken as full evidence that the party obtaining it is a spy, "lurking within the lines of the Federal army," and will be treated accordingly.

By Command of Major General Steedman

(this is proof that Jane Whitsett Harris was a Confederate Spy, as he worked actively and without fear for the Confederacy)

From a Child of the Civil War-

(as told by Harriet Harris Deck, granddaughter of Moses Whitsett and daughter of Minerva Jane Whitsett Harris)

"I can remember the war. I was seven or eight years old, Angie was about four (her sister, Angie Harris Callaway). There were no men folks left at home, Pa and Bud were away fighting in the war. All the negroes were helping fight or had run away, except one old negro left to help Ma and an old negro mammy, who tried to keep to keep some thing cooked to feed us children.

"One day the Yankees come to our house looking for victuals. There was a basket of sweet potatoes in the kitchen. One of the Yankee soldiers picked up the basket and started out with it. Jennie (her sister, Virginia Harris Quinn) grabbed his coattail and followed him, pulling on him and saying, "Man, man, them's our taters!". He didn't pay her any mind. We had a barrel of molasses under a stairway. When the soldiers searched the house, to see if we had any thing hid, Grandma Ray put her chair in front of the little door that opened under the stairs and sat down. She sat there until they left and they didn't find the molasses. They started to take Ma's old horse, the only one left on the place. She took a butcher knife and went out and stood by the horse and dared them to take it. They got on their horses and went away."

Clipping from the Record (Catoosa County, Ga.) 1911

CAPTAIN WHITSITT CLAIMED BY DEATH

Oldest Settler in the County Came Here in 1854, Fifty Seven Years Ago.

The death of Capt. Whitsitt took place at his home here Monday night at 12:00 o'clock, after a short illness of La-Grippe. His death brings to our little town universal sorrow.

Capt. Whitsitt was born in Rockingham County N.C. Oct. 7, 1831. He moved to Catoosa County in 1858 and lived here ever since, except four years spent in the civil war. He enlisted at the outbreak of the war as a private in Company B, 1st Georgia battallion, soon rising to the rank of Captain in the 1st Georgia regiment. He also served this county as sheriff and treasurer.

He was a member of the Methodist Church at this place and until his health failed a few years ago, his place was never vacant. He was a great lover of children and made friends of all the little folks in town.

In the death of Capt. Whitsitt our town and county has sustained a great loss and Camp Joe McConnell one of its truest and most loyal members.

Surviving Capt. Whitsitt are his wife, one son, C. H. Whitsitt, of Chattanooga, a granddaughter, Mrs. W. H. Whorley of Nashville, a brother, Joe Whitsitt of Belton Tex., a half brother, C. H. Ray of Youngport, Tex.

A touching scene at his funeral was the presence of eleven of his old comrades acting as honorary pallbearers: J. A. Smith, R. B. Trimmier, J. T. Robinson, J. H. Anderson, W. H. Neal, J. C. Hix, J. W. Smith, W. W. Batey, Luke Dempsey, W. C. McDonald and I. L. Magill.

The funeral was conducted at the late residence yesterday morning at nine o'clock by Rev. M. L. Harris, the interment following in the Anderson cemetery.

The Record offers sincerest sympathy to the sorrowing family.

(this was William J. Whitsitt, son of Moses Whitsitt and brother of Minerva Jane Whitsitt Harris)
